III. General Professional Experience:

I became a partner with the predecessor to my current firm (Klestadt & Winters, LLP) in 2006 after practicing for many years in the areas of business bankruptcy, distressed asset transactions and complex commercial litigation.

Full biographical information is available at:

IV. Compensation Structures

I'm willing to consider compensation arrangements for services as a neutral mediator either on an hourly or flat fee basis. The parties preference, as well as the facts and circumstances surrounding the particular dispute will inform me as to the most appropriate compensation arrangement.

V. General Pertinent Experience:

I have extensive experience in distressed business consulting, financial restructuring services, acquisitions, financing arrangements and commercial transactions with concentration in the middle market.

My representations of debtors, creditors, official committees, and trustees have been primarily in the New York metro area, but with other significant cases or matters in Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Restructuring experience includes significant engagements involving law firms and other professional firms, hospital, nursing home, medical practices and home health care, public and private educational institutions, automotive supply and dealerships, power plants and coal mines, construction and development, mortgage origination, real estate leasing and finance, beverage manufacture and wholesale, restaurant and grocery chains, media technology and graphic design, garment and apparel, footwear and fashion, diamond and jewelry wholesale and retail, crypto currency, and several Roman Catholic affiliated entities.

I also have particular experience both litigating and defending preference, fraudulent conveyance claims, as well claims against directors and officers. I employ a practical approach to resolving such matters.

VI. Mediation Training (and Experience):

Basic Mediation Training: Conflict Resolution Theory & Techniques, 26.5 hours (4 full days) sponsored by The New York City Bar, completed during October, 2010.

In addition to formal training, I have been appointed as a mediator by many courts in several high profile chapter 11 cases primarily involving disputes over avoidance actions and other contested matters.

Further, I often function as an informal mediator in chapter 11 matters while serving as an estate representative. Typically, I find myself mediating disputes between certain creditors and another estate representative in a chapter 11 case. I have also participated in several mediations as counsel to a participant.

I am also a member of the panel of approved mediators for the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York.

VII. Pertinent Bankruptcy Training (and Experience):

I possess what I would characterize as broad experience and hands-on training with restructuring and liquidation of many types of businesses and associated litigation involving varying sectors of the economy. Indeed, since graduating from law school, my practice has focused primarily on bankruptcy and commercial law matters.

I attended St. John's University School of Law and elected to take several LLM level courses focused on bankruptcy and reorganization. I also served as an editor of the American Bankruptcy Institute Law Review while at St. John's. While at St. John's, I also had the privilege of interning with the Honorable Cornelius Blackshear, then a sitting U.S. Bankruptcy Court Judge for the Southern District of New York.

VIII. General pertinent business or legal experience

In addition to matters litigated in this and other Bankruptcy Courts, I have significant experience as a commercial litigator. I have litigated complicated issues in state courts involving, for example, theories of piercing the corporate veil and alter ego. I have also litigated more routine matters such as breach of contract or sale of goods disputes. Further, I have experience in matters that involve criminal and civil forfeiture in both state and federal court, having represented the auto forfeiture division of a national bank in the New York metropolitan area for many years.
